GENERAL INFORMATION.

LOCATION.

Forest Grove, the location of Pacific University and Tualatin Academy, is situated twenty-five miles west of the city of Portland, and six miles from Hillsboro, the county seat of Washington county.

It is accessible by the Oregon and California railroad, which now runs two trains each way daily.

As its name implies, Forest Grove is a scene of sylvan beauty. There is no more charming spot in the entire state. To the westward rises the Coast range, which breaks the force of the winter winds, while to the eastward spread out the fertile Tualatin plains, giving in the distance a view of Mount Hood and the Cascade range. Gale's creek, a clear mountain stream, skirts the southwest limits of the town.

With such situation and surroundings, the place cannot be other than salubrious and healthful, well suited to make student-life a delight and a blessing.

GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS.

An ample campus, level on the north and west, gently sloping on the southeast and with a fine front eastward, form an invaluable part of the dowry of the Institution.

Two plain and substantial buildings, each two stories high and surmounted with a small tower, were erected under the Presidency of Dr. Marsh, and furnish chapel, recitation and library rooms and laboratory, commodious and comfortable throughout.

The Ladies' Hall, for which Dr. Herriek secured the funds, is to be ready for use in the coming school year. It is four stories above the brick basement and will be very complete in its appointments. The Hall will be open to young ladies, both to room and board. Young gentlemen, who desire it, will be received to table board.

The Preceptress will have her home in the Hall and be in immediate charge of the ladies who room there.

The rooms are arranged in suites of two, a study room and a sleeping room, each suite designed for two occupants.

Further information in regard to furniture of the rooms, room-rent and price of board will be given later, through the newspapers or by circular.

ADMISSION.

The Institution is open to all students of suitable age and character, without distinction of race or sex ; but it is not a reform school and does not undertake the education of any youth who may prove too difficult for reasonable home rule and restraint. Hence the right is reserved in any case to require evidence of good character and behavior.

Any one under sixteen years of age, attending here from out of town should be committed to the special oversight of some resident of the place whom the Faculty will approve.

Students coming from other Institutions will present a certificate of honorable dismissal.

EXAMINATIONS.

Examinations for admission will be held on the first Wednesday of September, at nine o'clock A. M., at the College.

To enter the Academic Course in full standing, a pupil must have learned Reading, Writing, Spelling, Arithmetic through fractions, the rudiments of English Grammar and outlines of Descriptive Geography.

Applicants for admission to the University Courses—who must be at least fifteen years of age—will be required to pass examinations in the studies of the corresponding Academic Course, or their equivalents.

For admission to Advance Standing, there will be required an examination in the studies already passed over by the class which the student wishes to enter, or their equivalents, and also the corresponding advancement in age.

Examinations will be held at the close of each study, of the year, and, sometimes, of the course, at which all members of the respective classes are expected to be present.

All recitations and examinations are marked on a scale of 10. An average of not less than 6 is required before leaving a study, (in Spelling, 8.5).

A record of attendance and progress is kept, and reports are sent each term to parents, guardians or adult pupils.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The School Year, in all departments of the Institution, is divided into three Terms and three Vacations.

1883-4.

Fall Term begins.....	Wednesday, Sept. 5.
Winter Term begins.....	Wednesday, Dec. 5.
Spring Term begins.....	Wednesday, March 5.
Holiday Vacation.....	Dec. 25 till Jan. 1.
Spring Vacation.....	March 29 till April 1.
Summer Vacation.....	June 5 till Sept. 2.

The Year will close at Commencement, on Wednesday, June 4, 1884.

Students may enter their classes at any time; but it is very desirable, and far preferable, for them to be present at the beginning of the Term.

TUITION AND OTHER EXPENSES.

Tuition is payable per term, in advance, to Hon. A. Hinman, Local Treasurer.

In the Academy, per term.....	$10 00
In the University Courses, per term.....	15 00

A Library fee is also required of each student of twenty-five cents per term, payable with the tuition.

Board, in families, can be had at from $3 to $4.50 per week, including furnished room, fire and light.

Students can deposit their money with the Local Treasurer at the opening of the term, and draw it out during the term in such sums as may be needed. But the Treasurer or Faculty do not attempt to assume any special oversight or control of the personal expenditure of students.

No money paid in for tuition will be refunded to a student who leaves before the close of the term, except in cases where one is excused before the middle of the term on account of his own sickness, in which event, the tuition for the latter half of the term may be paid back.

It will be the policy of the Institution to foster in the community all advisable facilities for self support, such as working at trades two or three hours a day and half a day on Saturday, doing chores in private families, taking care of yards and gardens, taking the janitorship of public buildings, sawing wood, teaching in vacation, or whatever else a student may find to do, so long as it does not prove detrimental to health and study. The school does not furnish either manual or professional labor, but it encourages students in them both, as equally honorable. No student, in learning the Sciences and the Classics, should unlearn honest, daily work, work even with the hands.

In this way many most worthy students are enabled to pursue their studies and acquire proficient and enduring scholarship.

Efforts will be made to arrange so that students in regular Courses, who are obliged to be absent teaching in term time, can make up their studies during the summer vacation.

COURSES OF STUDY.

In the Academy there are two Courses of three years each. In the University there are three Courses; the full Classical Course, of four years; the Ladies' Course and the Scientific Course, of three years each.

The Classical Course is in substance the same as that pursued in Eastern colleges.

In the pursuit of these Courses of study the aim is a high standard of character and scholarship.

Throughout the Academic Courses, Reading, Spelling and Rhetorical exercises are required, so far as it may appear necessary. At the discretion of the Faculty, classes may be formed for students not fitted for the Academic Courses.

Composition and Elocution are required throughout all three of the University Courses.

DEGREES.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred upon the graduates of the Classical Course; that of Bachelor of Science upon the graduates of the Scientific Course; and that of Mistress of Science upon graduates of the Ladies' Course.

Any Bachelor of Arts wishing to receive the Degree of Master of Arts in course, will be required to furnish evidence to the Trustees of continued interest and progress in professional or literary pursuits, by presenting either a written thesis or a public oration before receiving the Degree, the subject of the same to be presented to the President at the time of applying for the Degree.

THE LIBRARY.

The Library contains over 5,000 volumes, and now has a substantial fund for its increase.

These volumes are classified for ready reference, and in some of the more practical departments of knowledge they are very full. The librarian will gladly assist students to secure the greatest possible advantage from the library.

THE CABINET.

The collections in Geology and Natural History are already considerable and are increasing, so that these branches can be quite fairly illustrated.

Contributions to the University Cabinet may be sent to any member of the Faculty; they will be gladly received, and will certainly find their way to their proper places.

APPARATUS.

The Philosophical and Chemical apparatus is some of it very superior and sufficient for good practical work.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two of these in the Institution: The Gamma Sigma for gentlemen, and the Philomathean for ladies. These Societies are maintained and managed wholly by the students. Membership in them is voluntary.

They meet weekly in pleasant rooms in the College buildings and are a means of developing and fostering true literary excellence. The exercises are mainly original, and consist of essays, orations and discussions.

No small part of the benefit of these Societies, is the familiarity which the members acquire with parliamentary rules and the practical workings of public assemblies.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

The Institution is designed to breathe through all its classes and departments a kindly, faithful, healthful, transforming Christian atmosphere, and in aid of this general Christian influence which, it is desirable, should pervade the College, some special Religious Exercises are requisite.

Accordingly, all students are required to attend church service on Sabbath morning. There are several different churches in the place. Each student attends the church of his choice, but must select and attend some one church regularly.

All students will attend daily prayers at the Chapel, and morning or evening worship with the families in which they board. Each class has a weekly exercise in the English Bible, which all are expected to attend.

A weekly prayer meeting, conducted by the students, is held on Monday evening. This meeting is for all young people of the town, and attendance is not compulsory upon students.

GOVERNMENT AND DISCIPLINE.

Very careful attention is given to this vital and perplexing problem of school government. As closely as possible the government of the institution is modeled after that of the well-ordered family, in which the two Scriptural injunctions—"Children, obey your parents," and "Fathers, provoke not your children"—complement each other.

The government is lodged in the Faculty, who will endeavor to exercise authority in a considerate, helpful and affectionate spirit. A docile, filial spirit of obedience on the part of the students will cancel all the perplexity out of the problem.

Students are presumed, by their presence, to profess regard for the general rules of good manners and good morals, especially, regularity and orderly conduct, faithfulness in study, respect for authority, and thorough honesty.

The rules of the Institution are few and simple, appealing to the student's self-respect and personal responsibility. He is required, however, to abstain from the use of intoxicating drinks, to refrain from the use of profanity, and from attending parties during term time unless excused by the presiding officer, and the use of tobacco about the Colloge buildings or on the campus is disallowed.

Parents and the public are seriously asked to bear in mind that this is a school of the two sexes, where scores of young men and women, of boys and girls, come together at a distance from home. By bearing this fact in mind, they will readily see the reasonableness and necessity of very vigilant regulations respecting the associations of the one sex with the other. By no means do all the students require these regulations. But, in order that the very few shall not scandalize the many, very strict rules must be enforced, and all alike must submit to them.

ADDENDA.

A partial list of text-books is as follows; Arithmetic—Robinson's Practical; Stoddard's Intellectual; Wentworth's Complete Algebra; Olney's Trigonometry; Brown's Institutes of English Grammar; Bryant & Stratton's Book-keeping; Andrews & Stoddard's Latin Grammar; Harkness' Introductory Greek; Crosby's Compendious Greek Grammar; Fiske's Manual of Classical Literature; Perry's Political Economy; Thalheimer's General History; Story on the Constitution; Olmstead's College Philosophy; Olmstead's Astronomy; Loomis' Physiology.

Study hours, except Saturday and Sunday, are from 8 to 12 A. M., from 1 to 3 P. M., and from 7 to 9 P. M. During May, and on Saturday throughout the year, from 8 to nine P. M. During these hours and after 9 P. M., students are to be at their rooms or at school, unless specially excused.

The Faculty invite and desire the friends, the patrons, the Alumni, and especially the Trustees of the Institution, to visit the school at any time during the year, as they may be able to find their way to Forest Grove.

General Information.

LOCATION.

Forest Grove, the location of Pacific University and Tualatin Academy, is situated twenty-five miles west of the city of Portland, and six miles from Hillsboro, the county seat of Washington county.

It is accessible by the Oregon and California railroad, which runs two trains each way daily.

As its name implies, Forest Grove is a scene of sylvan beauty. There is no more charming spot in the entire state. To the westward rises the Coast range, which breaks the force of the winter winds, while to the eastward spread out the fertile Tualatin plains, giving in the distance a view of Mount Hood and the Cascade range. Gale's creek, a clear mountain stream, skirts the southwest limits of the town.

With such situation and surroundings, the place can not be other than salubrious and healthful, well suited to make student-life a delight and a blessing.

GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS.

An ample campus, level on the north and west, gently sloping on the southeast, and with a fine front eastward, forms an invaluable part of the dowry of the Institution.

Two plain and substantial buildings, each two stories high, and surmounted with a small tower, were erected under the presidency of Dr. Marsh, and furnish chapel, recitation and library rooms and laboratory, commodious and comfortable throughout.

Special mention of the new Ladies' Hall should be made. It has been in operation one year, and proves successful beyond the hope of its friends. It is open to young ladies, both to room and board. Young gentlemen, who desire it, are received to table board.

The rooms are arranged in suites of two—a study room and a sleeping room—with a closet; each suite is designed for two occupants. The rooms are comfortably furnished with carpet, stove, study-table, wash-stand, mirror, chairs, woven wire bed with mattress, lamp and window curtains. Occupants will have to provide themselves with towels, soap, napkins, and all bedding required, except the spring and mattress.

Water is supplied to each floor. A dumb-waiter is in service from basement through to upper story. Those who wish can do their own washing in the basement, which has cement floor and brick walls. Others can send their washing out to the various laundries in town.

Young women rooming in Ladies' Hall will have an opportunity, by early application, of working one or more hours a day, at twelve and a half cents per hour, thus helping themselves to meet expenses.

The Lady Principal will have her home in the Hall, and be in immediate charge of the ladies who room there. It is designed to make this beautiful building, as nearly as possible, a true home for all who have apartments in it during the school year.

Address the Lady Principal, Miss JULIA M. ADAMS, in regard to rooms, or other matters connected with the Hall.

Room rent and board are payable, each half term, in advance, to A. HINMAN.

THE LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

In connection with the Ladies' Hall a Ladies' Department has been established, to be under the supervision of a Ladies' Board, and in the immediate charge of the Lady Principal. By this arrangement Pacific University provides a school for the daughters of its patrons, which is in every way equal to a female seminary, with the additional advantage of co-education. Parents may confidently commit their daughters to the considerate and motherly oversight of our Ladies' Department.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTION.

PIANO-FORTE.

In this department especial attention will be paid to the development of a musical touch and a refined musical taste.

The course of study will include: First, Technical exercises, which are intended to give control over the muscles of the fingers, hands and arms, making them readily respond to the commands of the will. Second, Etudes, by the best teachers and writers, which are designed to form a connecting link between purely technical work and the higher forms of musical expression. The musical taste will be developed and made to keep pace with the above, by the constant study of the best classical writers for the piano-forte.

CULTIVATION OF THE VOICE.

Students desiring a more special cultivation of the voice will be given instruction in the correct use of the voice and manner of producing a good tone; drill in Technical Exercises, Vocalises, etc., to give control and flexibility to the voice, and practice in singing from standard composers.

CABINET ORGAN.

In this department a systematic course of instruction will be given in technical execution, in playing church music, short voluntaries and interludes; all of which exercises are intended to fit the pupil fully for the various uses of the instrument.

Free public rehearsals will be given once in four weeks, at which students will perform such pieces as may be assigned by their instructors, for the purpose of giving them self-control and ease in public.

Pupils must register their names and pay tuition, before their lessons are assigned.

A library of standard music will be open for students to use in practice, for which a charge of $1.00 to $3.00 per term will be made, according to the amount of music required.

TUITION.

(Per term, payable in advance.)

*CLASS LESSONS—two lessons per week.

FOR EACH TERM.—(thirteen weeks)—Piano-forte, Vocal, Organ, each.....$15 00

It has been decided to lay down a course of study in instrumental music, after having completed which, pupils will receive a diploma. The following is an outline of the course which it is expected pupils of ordinary ability may complete in three years, with two lessons a week :

The aim is to educate the mind of the pupil in the principles of art, while training the eye and hand in the practice. From the outset the pupil is taught to make Nature his guide, and as early as possible is required to make studies and sketches from life. A variety of copies will be furnished.

There will be an exhibition of work at the close of the year, and pupils will please not send their pieces home before that time.

* By "Class Lessons" is meant hour lessons with two in a class, each receiving one-half hour of personal instruction, and sitting by the other half-hour, thus getting the benefit of the other's instruction.

TERMS OF TWELVE LESSONS.

Drawing-----	$ 6 00
Water Colors-----	9 00
Oil Paints-----	10 00
China-----	10 00
Crayon Portraits-----	12 00

MILITARY INSTRUCTION.

Twice a week the young gentlemen, under a good instructor, have opportunity to drill in both infantry and artillery tactics, as adopted by the War Department. This is the only military school in the entire Pacific Northwest. It has two objects: first—to promote health and grace of movement; and second—to prepare young men for the emergency of war.

PENMANSHIP.

A course of fifteen lessons will be given each term, by a successful writing master, without extra charge to students.

ADMISSION.

The Institution is open to all students of suitable age and character, without distinction of race or sex; but it is not a reform school, and does not undertake the education of any youth who may prove too difficult for reasonable home rule and restraint. Hence the right is reserved in any case to require evidence of good character and behavior.

Any student under sixteen years of age, from out of town, should be committed to the special oversight of some resident of the place whom the Faculty will approve.

Students coming from other institutions will present a certificate of honorable dismissal.

EXAMINATIONS.

Examinations for admission will be held on the first Wednesday of September, at 9 o'clock A. M., at the College.

To enter the Academic Course in full standing, a pupil must be able to pass examination in Writing, Spelling, Arithmetic through fractions, the rudiments of English Grammar and outlines of Descriptive Geography.

Applicants for admission to the University Courses—who must be at least fifteen years of age—will be required to pass examinations in the studies of the corresponding Academic Course, or their equivalents.

For admission to Advance Standing, there will be required an examination in the studies already passed over by the class which the student wishes to enter, or their equivalents, and also the corresponding advancement in age.

Examinations will be held at the close of each study, and in the College Courses; in addition to these, examination may be had at direction of the Faculty at the end of each year upon any studies of the year, at which all members of the respective classes are expected to be present.

All recitations and examinations are marked on a scale of 10. An average of not less than 6 is required before leaving a study. (In spelling, 8.5.)

A record of attendance, class standing and deportment is kept, and reports are sent each term to parents, guardians or adult pupils.

STUDY HOURS.

Study hours, except on Saturday and Sunday, are from 8:45 to 12:00 A. M., from 1:00 to 3:00 P. M., and from 7:00 to 9:00 P. M. During May, and on Saturday throughout the year, from 8:00 to 9:00 P. M.

During these hours, and after 9:00 P. M., students are to be at their rooms or at school, unless especially excused.

TUITION AND OTHER EXPENSES.

Tuition is payable per term in advance, to HON. A. HINMAN, Local Treasurer.

In the Academy, per term	$10 00
In the University Courses, per term	15 00

Two studies in College require College tuition.

A Library fee is also required of each student, of twenty-five cents per term, payable with the tuition.

Sons and daughters of Home Missionaries are admitted at half rates.

Price of board varies according to cost of supplies. For the coming year table board at the Ladies' Hall will be $2.50 per week. Room rent and board, including fire and light, with the privilege of the house, will be $3.00 to $4.00 per week, according to location and furnishing of room.

Board in families can be had at from $3.00 to $4.50 per week, including furnished room, fire and light.

Students can board themselves at much less expense, in cases where inclination or necessity requires closer economy.

Perhaps a pleasanter way to economize is for several students to form a club, they furnishing supplies and hiring a cook to prepare meals.

No student is allowed to room at a hotel or public boarding house, except upon special permission of the Faculty.

In selecting or changing boarding places, students must consult the presiding officer of their department, and young ladies boarding themselves must be under the supervision of the lady of the house where they room.

All students on entering and leaving the school, are required to report to the presiding officer of their department.

Students can deposit their money with the Local Treasurer at the opening of the term, and draw it out during the term in such sums as may be needed. But the Treasurer or Faculty do not attempt to assume any special oversight or control of the personal expenditure of students.

No money paid in for tuition will be refunded to a student who leaves before the close of the term, except in cases where one is excused before the middle of the term on account of his own sickness, in which event, the tuition for the latter half of the term may be paid back.

It will be the policy of the Institution to foster in the community all advisable facilities for self-support, such as working at trades two or three hours a day, and half a day on Saturday, doing chores in private families, taking care of yards and gardens, taking the janitorship of public buildings, sawing wood, teaching in vacation, or whatever else the student may find to do, so long as it does not prove detrimental to health and study. The school does not furnish either manual or professional labor, but it encourages students in them both, as equally honorable. No student, in learning the Sciences and Classics, should unlearn honest, daily work, work even with the hands.

In this way many most worthy students are enabled to pursue their studies and acquire proficient and enduring scholarship.

Efforts will be made to arrange so that students in regular Courses, who are obliged to be absent teaching in term time, can make up their studies during the summer vacation.

COURSES OF STUDY.

In the Academy there are two Courses of three years each. In the University there are three Courses; the full Classical Course, of four years; the Ladies' Course and the Scientific Course, of three years each.

The Classical Course is in substance the same as that pursued in Eastern colleges.

In the pursuit of these Courses of study the aim is a high standard of character and scholarship.

Throughout the Academic Courses, Reading, Spelling and Rhetorical exercises are required, so far as it may appear necessary.

Composition and Elocution are required throughout all three of the University Courses.

At the discretion of the Faculty, classes may be formed for students not fitted for the Academic Courses.

DEGREES.

The Degree of Bachelor of arts is conferred upon the graduates of the Classical Course; that of Bachelor of Science upon the graduates of the Scientific Course; and that of Mistress of Science upon graduates of the Ladies' Course.

Any Bachelor of Arts wishing to receive the Degree of Master of Arts in course, will be required to furnish evidence to the Trustees of continued interest and progress in professional or literary pursuits, by presenting either a written thesis or a public oration before receiving the degree, the subject of the same to be presented to the President at time of applying for the degree.

THE LIBRARY.

The Library contains over 5,700 volumes, and now has a substantial fund for its increase, and is open twice a week.

These volumes are classified for ready reference, and in some of the more practical departments of knowledge they are very full. The Librarian will gladly assist students to secure the greatest possible advantage from the Library.

THE CABINET.

The collections in Geology and Natural History are already considerable and are increasing, so that these branches can be quite fairly illustrated.

Contributions to the University Cabinet may be sent to any member of the Faculty; they will be gladly received, and will find their way to their proper places.

APPARATUS.

The Philosophical and Chemical apparatus is some of it very superior and sufficient for good, practical work.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two of these in the Institution: The Gamma Sigma for gentlemen, and the Philomathean for ladies. These Societies are maintained and managed wholly by the students. Membership in them is voluntary.

They meet weekly in pleasant rooms in the College buildings, and are a means of developing and fostering true literary excellence. The exercises are mainly original, and consist of essays, orations and discussions.

No small part of the benefit of these Societies, is the familiarity which the members acquire with parliamentary rules and the practical workings of public assemblies.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

The Institution is designed to breathe through all its classes and departments a kindly, faithful, healthful, transforming Christian atmosphere, and in aid of this general Christian influence which, it is desirable should pervade the College, some special Religious Exercises are requisite.

Accordingly, all students are required to attend church service on Sabbath morning. There are several different churches in the place. Each student attends the church of his choice, but must select and attend some one church regularly.

All students will attend daily prayers at the chapel.

Students who so desire are by general excuse permitted to attend any regular or stated prayer-meeting once a week.

GOVERNMENT AND DISCIPLINE.

Very careful attention is given to this vital and perplexing problem of school government. As closely as possible the government of the Institution is modeled after that of the well-ordered family, in which the two scriptural injunctions—"Children, obey your parents," and "Fathers, provoke not your children"—complement each other.

The government is lodged in the Faculty, who will endeavor to exercise authority in a considerate, helpful and affectionate spirit. A docile, filial spirit of obedience on the part of the students will cancel all the perplexity out of the problem.

Students are presumed, by their presence, to profess regard for the general rules of good manners and good morals, especially, regularity and orderly conduct, faithfulness in study, respect for authority, and thorough honesty.

The rules of the Institution are few and simple, and in the main are such as appeal to the student's self-respect and personal responsibility. He is required, however, to abstain from the use of intoxicating drinks; to refrain from the use of profanity; from attending dancing parties during term time; from going into billiard halls or saloons; and from the use of tobacco about the College buildings or on the campus.

Students from abroad in special departments are subject to the general rules of the Institution.

Students in any department of the Institution shall not receive calls or visits at their rooms from persons of the opposite sex, except from members of their own families.

Parents and the public are seriously asked to bear in mind that this is a school of the two sexes, where scores of young men and women, of boys and girls, come together at a distance from home. By bearing this fact in mind, they will readily see the reasonableness and necessity of very vigilant regulations respecting the associations of the one sex with the other. By no means do all the students require these regulations. But in order that the very few shall not scandalize the many, very strict rules must be enforced, and all alike must submit to them.

SOCIAL PRIVILEGES.

Sociability among students is encouraged. They are allowed to make and receive calls between study hours, and also on Friday evening not later than 9:00 o'clock.

Occasional sociables will be held for benefit of students.

General permission will be given from time to time to attend such public entertainments as the Faculty may approve.

Special permission will also be given to accept occasional invitations from citizens.

EDUCATION is a great word. It means at first going to school and pursuing study by help and direction of books and teachers. Then it means acquirement of the knowledge of principles and their application. Beyond this it means development of the faculties of mind, embracing both the enlargement and refinement of these faculties. And lastly, EDUCATION means facility and efficiency in the use of the acquired knowledge and the developed faculties.—ADDRESS BEFORE OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY, 1886.

Promote, as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge.—WASHINGTON.

And without letters [learning] what is life!--ERASMUS.

THERE is an attempt to make science, or a knowledge of the laws of the material universe, an ally of the school which denies a separate spiritual existence and a future life,—in short, to borrow of science weapons to be used against Christianity. The friends of religion, therefore, confident that one truth never contradicts another, are doing wisely when they seek to accustom the people at large to think, and to weigh evidence, as well as believe. By giving a portion of their time to a vigorous training of the intellect and a study of the best books, men gain the power to deal satisfactorily with questions with which the mind might otherwise become bewildered.

It is true that there is no branch of human knowledge so important as that which teaches the duties we owe to God and to each other, and that there is no law of the universe, sublime and wonderful as it may be, so worthy of being fully known as the law of love, which makes him who obeys it a blessing to his species, and the universal observance of which would put an end to a large proportion of the evils which affect mankind.

Yet is a knowledge of the results of science, and such of its processes as lie most open to the popular mind, important for the purpose of showing the different spheres occupied by science and religion, and preventing the inquirer from mistaking their divergence from each other for opposition.—WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT, IN A LETTER OF MAY 18, 1878, TO DR. J. H. VINCENT.

Collegiate Department.

The College idea is a grand one. This is manifest though we go no further back than our American history. The ships that brought hither the Pilgrims were blown across the Atlantic by the breath of great ideas. One of these strong and steady winds that filled their sails was the College idea.—INAUGURAL ADDRESS, 1886.

The aim of a College is to cultivate the mind in a general way by disciplining all its faculties, to make the young strong in intellect, to give them acute, polished and well-balanced minds. If this disciplinary work is well accomplished, the mind may afterward be applied to any subject, to the study of any profession, art, or business, and it will be able to work with ease, precision and power.—PRESIDENT BARNAS SEARS, D.D., LL. D.

Academic Department.

In a new and sparsely settled country the ACADEMY must be the main reliance of the College. The ACADEMY should be looked to as the chief feeder of the College. The ACADEMY does not exist primarily for purposes of miscellaneous instruction—its specific object is to prepare students for College. It therefore devolves upon the Academic management to grade the studies and classify the students in this Department with great care, sifting out those only who cannot profitably pursue a course in college, and as far as practicable by due exercise of tact and discretion, holding all others for the Collegiate Department.—Annual Report, 1886.

By means of this DEPARTMENT Pacific University provides a school for the daughters of its patrons, both in Academy and College, which is in every way equal to the female seminary, with the additional advantage of co-education. Parents may confidently commit their daughters to the considerate and motherly oversight of our LADIES DEPARTMENT.

Conservatory of Music.

Music is the highest language, the loftiest form of expression, possible to man.—RECENT SERMON.

J. F. ELLIS, PRESIDENT.

MARY H. EDWARDS, DIRECTOR.

D. W. EARLY, ASSISTANT.

PIANO-FORTE.

In this department especial attention will be paid to the development of a musical touch and a refined musical taste.

The course of study will include: First, Technical exercises, which are intended to give control over the muscles of the fingers, hands and arms, making them readily respond to the commands of the will. Second, Etudes, by the best teachers and writers, which are designed to form a connecting link between purely technical work and the higher forms of musical expression. The musical taste will be developed and made to keep pace with the above, by the constant study of the best classical writers for the piano-forte.

CULTIVATION OF THE VOICE.

Students desiring a more special cultivation of the voice will be given instruction in the correct use of the voice and manner of producing a good tune; drill in Technical Exercises, Vocalises, etc., to give control and flexibility to the voice, and practice in singing from standard composers.

CABINET ORGAN.

In this department a systematic course of instruction will be given in technical execution, in playing church music, short voluntaries and interludes; all of which exercises are intended to fit the pupil fully for the various uses of the instrument.

Free public rehearsals will be given once in four weeks, at which students will perform such pieces as may be assigned by their instructors, for the purpose of giving them self-control and ease in public.

Pupils must register their names and pay tuition, before their lessons are assigned.

A library of standard music will be open for students to use in practice, for which a charge of $1.00 to $3.00 per term will be made, according to the amount of music required.

TUITION.

(Per term, payable in advance.)

CLASS LESSONS—two lessons per week.

EACH TERM (thirteen weeks): Piano-Forte, Vocal, Organ, each $15 00

It has been decided to lay down a course of study in instrumental music, after having completed which, pupils will receive a diploma. The following is an outline of the course which it is expected pupils of ordinary ability may complete in three years:

School of Art.

J. F. ELLIS, PRESIDENT.

CLYDE COOKE, INSTRUCTOR.

THE SCHOOL OF ART is very fortunate in securing as instructor, Mr. Clyde Cooke, who possesses the two requisites of the true artist: endowment with the genius of Art and the most thorough training in the best schools, having, in addition to home studies, spent four years and nine months at Munich.

Ability to paint and draw is in our day much more than a fashionable accomplishment. Mechanical eminence of manufacturing nations especially is largely advanced by training the youth to skill in the use of brush and pencil. Still, as an æsthetic accomplishment, it is a means of substantial culture and enduring pleasure.

Instructions in this Department include all the branches of drawing and painting in oil and water colors. The aim is to educate the mind of the pupils in the principles of Art, while training the eye and hand in the practice. From the outset the pupil is taught to make Nature his guide, and as early as possible is required to make studies and sketches from life. A variety of models will be furnished.

There will be an exhibition of work at the end of the first and second terms and a Commencement exhibition at the close of the year, and pupils will please not send their pieces home before that time.

The exercises which I first commend is the exact use of their weapon, to guard and strike safely with edge and point. This will keep them healthy, nimble, strong, and well in breath; is also the likeliest means to make them grow large and tall, and to inspire them with a gallant and fearless courage, which being tempered with seasonable lectures and precepts to make them of true fortitude and patience, will turn into a native and heroic valor, and make them hate the cowardice of doing wrong.—JOHN MILTON.

These bodily exercises are needful for rendering "us Germans fit and always prepared for joining the army and for battle. For verily our boys will have to defend land and people, and to be warriors."—MARTIN LUTHER.

Twice a week the young gentlemen in Pacific University have opportunity to drill in both infantry and artillery tactics, as adopted by the War department. This drill has two objects: first—to promote health and grace of movement; and second—to prepare young men for the emergency of war.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

LOCATION.

Forest Grove, the location of Pacific University, is situated twenty-five miles west of the city of Portland, and six miles from Hillsboro, the county seat of Washington county.

It is accessible by the Oregon and California railroad, which runs two passenger trains, each way, daily.

As its name implies, Forest Grove is a scene of sylvan beauty. There is no more charming spot in the entire state. To the westward rises the Coast range, which breaks the force of the winter winds, while to the eastward spread out the fertile Tualatin plains, giving in the distance a view of Mount Hood and the Cascade range. Gale's creek, a clear mountain stream, skirts the southwest limits of the town.

With such situation and surroundings, the place can not be other than salubrious and healthful, well suited to make student life a delight and a blessing.

GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS.

An ample campus, level on the north and west, gently sloping on the southeast, and with a fine front eastward, forms an invaluable part of the dowry of the Institution.

Two plain and substantial buildings, each two stories high and surmounted with a small tower, were erected under the presidency of Dr. Marsh, and furnish chapel, recitation and library rooms and laboratory, commodious and comfortable throughout.

Special mention of the new Ladies Hall should be made. It has been in operation two years and proves successful beyond the hope of its friends. It is open to young ladies, both to room and board. Young gentlemen, who desire it, are received to table board.

The rooms are arranged in suites of two—a study room and a sleeping room—with a closet; each suite is designed for two occupants. The rooms are comfortably furnished with carpet, stove, study-table, wash-stand, mirror, chairs, woven wire bed with mattress, lamp and window curtains. Occupants have to provide themselves with towels, soap, napkins, and all bedding required, except the spring and mattress.

Water is supplied to each floor. A dumb-waiter is in service from basement through to upper story. Those who wish can do their own washing in the basement, which has cement floor and brick walls. Others can send their washing out to the various laundries in town.

Young women rooming in Ladies Hall, have an opportunity, by early application, of working one or more hours a day, at twelve and a half cents per hour, thus helping themselves to meet expenses.

The Lady Principal has her home in the Hall, and is in immediate charge of the ladies who room there. It is designed to make this beautiful building, as nearly as possible, a true home for all who have apartments in it during the school year.

Address the Lady Principal, MISS JULIA M. ADAMS, in regard to rooms, or other matters connected with the Hall.

Room rent and board are payable, each half term, in advance, to A. HINMAN.

PENMANSHIP.

A course of fifteen lessons are given each term, by a successful writing master, without extra charge to students.

ADMISSION.

The Institution is open to all students of suitable age and character, without distinction of race or sex; but it is not a reform school, and does not undertake the education of any youth who may prove too difficult for reasonable home rule and restraint. Hence the right is reserved in any case to require evidence of good character and behavior.

Any student under sixteen years of age, from out of town, should be committed to the special oversight of some resident of the place whom the Faculty or Ladies Board may approve.

Students coming from other institutions will present a certificate of honorable dismissal.

EXAMINATIONS.

Examinations for admission are held on the first Wednesday of September, at 9 o'clock A. M. at the College.

To enter an Academic Course in full standing, the pupil must be able to pass examination in Writing, Spelling, Arithmetic through fractions, the rudiments of English Grammar and outlines of Descriptive Geography.

Applicants for admission to the Collegiate Courses—who must be at least fifteen years of age—are required to pass examinations in the studies of the corresponding Academic Course, or their equivalents.

For admission to Advance Standing, there is required an examination in the studies already passed over by the class which the student wishes to enter, or their equivalents, and also the corresponding advancement in age.

Examinations are held at the close of each study; and in the Collegiate Courses, in addition to these, examination may be had at direction of the Faculty at the end of each year upon any studies of the year, at which all members of the respective classes are expected to be present.

All recitations and examinations are marked on a scale of 10. An average of not less than 7 is required before leaving a study, (In spelling, 8.5).

A record of attendance, class standing and deportment is kept, and reports are sent each term to parents, guardians or adult pupils.

STUDY HOURS.

Study hours, except on Saturday and Sunday, are from 8:45 to 12:00 A. M., from 1:00 to 3:00 P. M., and from 7:00 to 9:00 P. M. During May, and on Saturday throughout the year, from 8:00 to 9:00 P. M.

During these hours, and after 9:00 P. M., students are to be at their rooms or at school, unless especially excused.

TUITION AND OTHER EXPENSES.

Tuition is payable per term in advance, to HON. A. HINMAN, Local Treasurer.

In the Academy, per term.....	$10 00
In College, per term.....	15 00

Two studies in College require Collegiate tuition.

Sons and daughters of Home Missionaries are admitted at half rates.

A library fee is also required of each student, of twenty-five cents per term, payable with the tuition.

Price of board varies according to cost of supplies. For the coming year table board at the Ladies Hall will be $2.50 per week. Room rent and board, including fire and light, with the privilege of the house, will be $3.00 to $4.00 per week, according to location and furnishing of room.

Board in families can be had at from $3.00 to $4.50 per week, including furnished room, fire and light.

Students can board themselves at much less expense, in cases where inclination or necessity requires closer economy.

Perhaps a pleasanter way to economize is for several students to form a club, they furnishing supplies and hiring a cook to prepare meals.

No student is allowed to room at a hotel or public boarding house, except upon special permission of the Faculty or Ladies Board.

In selecting or changing boarding places, students must consult the presiding officer of their Department, and young ladies boarding themselves must be under the supervision of the lady of the house where they room.

All students on entering and leaving the school, are required to report to the presiding officer of their Department.

Students can deposit their money with the Local Treasurer at the opening of the term, and draw it out during the term in such sums as may be needed. But the Treasurer or Faculty do not attempt to assume any special oversight or control of the personal expenditure of students.

No money paid in for tuition is refunded to students who leave before the close of the term, except in cases where they are excused before the middle of the term on account of their own sickness, in which event, the tuition for the latter half of the term may be paid back.

It is the policy of the Institution to foster in the community all advisable facilities for self-support, such as working at trades two or three hours a day, and half a day on Saturday, doing chores in private families, taking care of yards and gardens, taking the janitorship of public buildings, sawing wood, teaching in vacation, or whatever else the student may find to do, so long as it does not prove detrimental to health and study. The school does not furnish either manual or professional labor, but it encourages students in them both, as equally honorable. No student, in learning the Sciences and Classics, should unlearn honest daily work, work even with the hands.

In this way many most worthy students are enabled to pursue their studies and acquire proficient and enduring scholarship.

Efforts will be made to arrange so that students in regular Courses, who are obliged to be absent teaching in term time, can make up their studies during the summer vacation.

COURSES OF STUDY.

In the Academy there are two Courses of three years each. In College there are three Courses; the full Classical Course, of four years; the Ladies Course and the Scientific Course, of three years each.

The Classical Course is in substance the same as that pursued in Eastern colleges.

In the pursuit of these Courses of study the aim is a high standard of character and scholarship.

DEGREES AND CERTIFICATES.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred upon the graduates of the Classical Course; that of Bachelor of Science upon the graduates of the Scientific Course; and that of Mistress of Science upon graduates of the Ladies Course.

Certificates of Graduation are presented to students completing the Academic Courses.

Any Bachelor of Arts wishing to receive the Degree of Master of Arts in course, is required to furnish evidence to the Trustees of continued interest and progress in professional or literary pursuits, by presenting either a written thesis or a public oration before receiving the degree, the subject of the same to be presented to the President at time of applying for the degree.

THE LIBRARY.

The Library contains over 5,900 volumes, and now has a substantial fund for its increase, and is open twice a week.

These volumes are classified for ready reference, and in some of the more practical departments of knowledge they are very full. The Librarian will gladly assist students to secure the greatest possible advantage from the Library.

The Rev. O. Dickinson, of Salem, has just made the Library a present of over 200 volumes, a very valuable addition.

Resolve to edge in actual reading every day if it is but a single sentence. If you gain fifteen minutes a day it will make itself felt at the end of the year.—HORACE MANN.

THE CABINET.

The collections in Geology and Natural History are already considerable and are increasing, so that these branches can be quite fairly illustrated.

Contributions to the Cabinet may be sent to any member of the Faculty; they will be gladly received, and will find their way to their proper place.

It is with pleasure announced that Rev. Samuel Wood, of Butte, Montana Territory, is making a collection of the minerals of his region for Pacific University, to be known as "The Wood Cabinet."

APPARATUS.

The Philosophical and Chemical apparatus is, some of it, very superior and sufficient for good, practical work.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two of these in the Institution: The Gamma Sigma for gentleman, and the Philomathean for ladies. These Societies are maintained and managed wholly by the students. Membership in them is voluntary.

They meet weekly in pleasant rooms in the University buildings, and are a means of developing and fostering true literary excellence. The exercises are mainly original, and consist of essays, orations and discussions.

No small part of the benefit of these Societies, is the familiarity which the members acquire with parliamentary rules and the practical workings of public assemblies.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

The Institution is designed to breathe through all its classes and departments a kindly, faithful, healthful, transforming Christian atmosphere, and in aid of this general Christian influence which, it is desirable should pervade the University, some special Religious Exercises are requisite.

Accordingly, all students are required to attend church service on Sabbath morning. There are several different churches in the place. Each student attends the church of his choice, but must select and attend some one church regularly.

All students will attend daily prayers at the chapel.

Students who so desire are by general excuse permitted to attend any regular or stated prayer-meeting once a week.

Classes meet once a week for study, according to the following outline:

COLLEGIATE COURSES.

FIRST	YEAR—	Greek or Latin Testament in Gospels or Harmony.
SECOND	"	"	"	"	"	"
THIRD	"	"	"	"	in Acts or Epistles.
FOURTH	"	Hebrew Bible, or Greek Testament in Epistles.

ACADEMIC COURSES.

FIRST	YEAR—	Old Testament History.
SECOND	“	New	“	“
THIRD	“	Outline of Bible study.

GOVERNMENT AND DISCIPLINE.

Very careful attention is given to this vital and perplexing problem of school government. As closely as possible the government of the Institution is modeled after that of the well-ordered family, in which the two scriptural injunctions—"Children, obey your parents," and "Fathers, provoke not your children"—complement each other.

The government is lodged in the Faculty and the Ladies Board, who endeavor to exercise authority in a considerate, helpful and affectionate spirit. A docile, filial spirit of obedience on the part of the students will cancel all the perplexity out of the problem.

Students are presumed, by their presence, to profess regard for the general rules of good manners and good morals, especially regularity and orderly conduct, faithfulness in study, respect for authority, and thorough honesty.

The rules of the Institution are few and simple, and in the main are such as appeal to the student's self-respect and personal responsibility. He is required, however, to abstain from the use of intoxicating drinks; to refrain from the use of profanity; from attending dancing parties during term time; from going into billiard halls or saloons; and from the use of tobacco about the University buildings or on the campus.

Students from abroad in special departments are subject to the general rules of the Institution.

Students in any department of the Institution shall not receive calls or visits at their rooms from persons of the opposite sex, except from members of their own families.

Parents and the public are seriously asked to bear in mind that this is a school of the two sexes, where scores of young men and women, of boys and girls, come together at a distance from home. By bearing this fact in mind, they will readily see the reasonableness and necessity of very vigilant regulations respecting the associations of the one sex with the other. By no means do all the students require these regulations. But in order that the very few shall not scandalize the many, very strict rules must be enforced, and all alike must submit to them.

SOCIAL PRIVILEGES.

Sociability among students is encouraged. They are allowed to make and receive calls between study hours, and also on Friday evening not later than 9:00 o'clock.

Occasional sociables will be held for the benefit of students.

General permission will be given from time to time to attend such public entertainments as the Faculty and Ladies' board may approve.

Special permission will also be given to accept occasional invitations from citizens.

Terms and Vacations, 1886-7.

The School Year, in all departments of the Institution, is divided into three Terms of thirteen weeks each.

Fall Term begins Wednesday, September 1.

Winter Term begins Wednesday, December 1.

Spring Term begins Wednesday, March 2.

Holiday Vacation, December 25 till January 3, inclusive.

A Spring Recess of two or three days will be given about April 1.

Summer Vacation begins June 2.

The year closes at Commencement on Wednesday, June 1.

Thanksgiving and Decoration days are stated holidays in the Institution. Special holidays are given during the year at discretion of the Faculty.

Students may enter their classes at any time, but it is very desirable, and far preferable, for them to be present at the beginning of the term.

Special Notice,

The Faculty invite and desire the friends, the patrons, the Alumni, and especially the Trustees of the Institution, to visit the school at any time during the year, as they may be able to find their way to Forest Grove.
